

BABY MYRO

BABY MYRO

WHITEPAPER

INTRODUCTION

It's always hard in the beginning. For getting started with Web3, it's even more complicated. It's a UX shock for many newbies that they have to connect one app to another, pay outrageous fees, and go through brain-racking user flows and transactions that are completely non-existent in the traditional finance world.

Many would-be users are lost at this point. They throw in the towel before they even the best features of the technology. Undoubtedly, this is crippling the adoption of the next-generational technology and must be stopped. Baby Myro is here to make Web3 more friendly and welcoming to new and even existing users.

Baby Myro is the most adorable puppy on BSC. Baby Myro is designed to simplify the use of blockchain technology to the point that it feels like a walk in the park and also meet the growing demand for dog-themed Memes across blockchains especially on BSC and positioned to be everyone on BSC's best friend and guide through their Web3 journey.

Baby Myro symbolises the gateway to harness the potential that Web3 financial technology brings to change the world for the better by making it more friendly for everyone, like a walk in the park.

VISION, MISSION & OBJECTIVES

Baby Myro is opening up a channel for newbies and veterans to interact with Web3 technology in a fun and creative way. Its vision is to lower the barrier of entry so that more users, across different social levels, will embrace the novel technology proven by increase in on-chain transaction count.

Baby Myro wants to make using BSC and the entire Web3 technology feel like a walk in the park. Some of its objectives include;

- Improving the general outlook of meme coins as tokens valuable to the Web3 ecosystem.
- Increasing the usage of tools and decentralized exchanges (DEX) on BSC.
- Positively influencing the adoption of the BSC ecosystem and the movement of the $BNB token's price.
